THIRTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

First Session.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1858

SENATE. The VICE PRESIDENT laid before the Senate a letter rom the Chief Clerk of the Court of Claims, in answer o a resolution of the Senate requesting the return of the settition and papers of Michael Hanson; which was read and ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. HUNTER, from the Committee on Finance, to whom was referred the bill from the House of Represent-atives making appropriations for the support of three regiments of volunteers, authorized by the act of Con-gress, approved 7th April, 1858, reported it with amend-circumstances; which was read and passed to a second reading.

Mr. MALLORY, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported a joint resolution explanatory of an act for the relief of Dr. Charles D. P. Maxwell, a surgeon in the United States navy; which was read three times by unanimous consent and passed.

Mr. BAYARD, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill from the House of Representatives to change the time of holding the spring term of the district court of the United States for the western district of the State of Texas, reported it back without amendment and recommended its passage; and no objection being made, it was read a third time and passed.

Mr. B., from the same committee, to whom was referred the bill from the House of Representatives to regulate the fees and costs to be allowed to marshals, district attorneys, clerks of courts, jurors, and witnesses in the State of California, and in the Territories of Oregon and Washington, reported it with amendments.

Mr. HUNTER moved that the Senate insist on its mendments to the civil appropriation bill, which had seen disagreed to by the House of Representatives, and sk a conference thereon; which was agreed to, and sesses. Hunter, Frankroke, and Bigler were appointed onferees on the part of the Senate.

Mr. PEARCE made a personal explanation, showing hat a slight difficulty which occurred in the course of the belate yesterday between Messrs. Dayss and Brenzakin riginated in a misunderstanding. The gentlemen referred to also made statements disavowing an intention of ficiniveness or personality in their remarks, and thus heir previous friendly relations are restored.

Mr. DAVIS, from the Committee on Military Affairs, who were instructed by a resolution of the Senate to investigate the charges made against the conduct of Hon. Herar M. Rick in the sale of the Fort Crawford military reservation, in Iowa, submitted a report thereon, which was read. The committee say that they do not find anything substantiated by the evidence that imputes criminality to, or arraigns the integrity of Mr. Rick in that transaction, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Mr. KING, as one of the committee, stated that he did not concur in the report that had just been made.

Mr. WILSON also said that he did not altogether concur in the report. The evidence required that he should disapprove the manner in which the sale had been conducted; but, at the same time, he did not think that the charge of criminality against Mr. Rick had been sustained by the testimony.

Mr. HARLAN remarked that, insamuch as he had been the medium of presenting these charges, and had been

The question being taken, the amendment was agreed

The question being taken on the amendment of the committee last named, it was agreed to by a large majority.

Mr. YULEE then submitted an amendment authorising the Postmaster General to cause the mails to be transported between the United States and any foreign port or ports by steamships, allowing and paying therefor the postages on the mails so conveyed, with certain provises intended to prevent the competition of these new lines with those already existing. After considerable debate the amendment was agreed to..

Mr. CLINGMAN then submitted an amendment providing that after June 30, 1860, a discriminating rate of postage of 100 per centum shall be exacted upon all letters and other mail matter conveyed from foreign countries to the United States by vessels sailing under foreign flags which shall receive a government bonus as mail-carriers; and the Postmaster General shall abrogate any existing postal convention with a foreign government the stipulations of which are calculated to prevent the execution of the preceding provision.

The question being taken, the amendment was not agreed to.

Mr. PUGH moved to strike out the appropriation of $328,350 for the transportation of the mails from Panama to California and Oregon and back, and to insert in lieu thereof an appropriation of $85,000 for the abovename service until the expiration of the present contract with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in October next, and also directing the Postmaster General to contract with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in October next, and also directing the Postmaster General to contract with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in October next, and also directing the Postmaster General to contract with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in October next, and also directing the Postmaster General to contract with the pacific Mail Steamship Company in October next, and also directing the Postmaster General to contract with the pacific Mail Steamship Company in October next, and also directing the Postmaster General to contract

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The SPEAKER asked consent to lay before the House a memorial from Judge John C. Watrous, of Texas; but objection was made.

Mr. JOHN COCHRANE, of New York, under a suspension of the rules, reported from the Committee on Commerce Senate bill to repeal the fith section of an act entitled "an act to authorize a register, enrolment, or license to be issued in the name of the president or secretary of any incorporated company owning a steamboat or vessel," approved March 3, 1825; and it was taken up and passed.

On motion of Mr. JOHN COCHRANE, also under a suspension of the rules, the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union was discharged from the further consideration of the bill for the codification of the existing revenue laws of the United States, and for other purposes, and it was made the special order for the first Wednesday in December next, and until disposed of.

On motion of Mr. PETITT, of Indiana, under a suspension of the rules, the Committee of the Whole House was discharged from the further consideration of the bill for the relief of Benjamin Sayre; and it was taken up and passed.

would cost $250,000. If, in accordance with the estimate of the Secretary, it would require $2,300,000, then $1,200,000 would be enough to appropriate this year. But he believed they could be built for a male saum. The estimate of the Secretary had bein made less fall, when there was an entirely different state of affairs from that now existing; and he was informed that the Secretary of the Treasury had recently caused to be constructed a fine small steamer for the revenue service, very nearly as large as the sloops which they proposed to build for $150,000. If this vessel could be built at this price, he did not believe the small steamers to which he referred would coat more than $200,000 aplace.

Mr. J. GLANCY JONES then explained the amendments of the Senate, which are fourteen in number; after which the committee proceeded to act upon them. All the other amendments having been disposed of, the Clerk reported the last amendment providing for the construction of five steam screw sloops-of-war, and appropriating for this purpose $1,200,000.

Mr. J. GLANCY JONES caplained that the vessels were to be screw propellers, four of them of fourteen feet draught, and the remaining one of eight feet draught, for service in the China sea. The Committee of Ways and Means recommended a non-concurrence in the amendment.

Mr. BOCOCK, of Virginia, moved to increase the number to ten. He urged, in addition to what he had already said, that these vessels were needed in view of one present condition for the purpose of preventing war; for weakness induced invasion, whilst strength repelled it. If known that we can repel attacks successfully, they will not come.

Mr. BOCOCK replied that he would like to have them all of lighter draught. A gentleman had asid the other day that there was no need of a large navy. He was sorry to hear such a statement. There was now no more nevy than in 1816, and then we had show tone-third the territory of Great Britain is now we had more than Great Britain had more than ten times the number. This wa

The question being taken, the amendment was agreed to.

Mr. SAVAGE, of Tennessee, offered an amendment providing for the construction of ten steam frigates with full steam power, to be constructed by order of the Navy Department, and that the President be requested to give notice of the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and also that the appropriation shall not go into affect, until such notice is given; pending which, the committee took a recess until 6 o'clock.

Mr. GARNETT, of Virginia, concurred generally with Mr. Kavr. The amendment had been adopted simply because these vessels were needed for the service of the United States.

The question being taken, the amendment of Mr. Haron

At 6 o'clock the committee reassembled.

The CHAIRMAN decided that so much of the amendment of Mr. Savaar, of Tennessee, as requests the President to give notice of the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, was not in criter.

Mr. SaVAGE modified his amendment by striking out that portion, and retaining the proviso fast the appropriation should not be used until notice of the abrogation of that the stream is given by sion, the amendment was agreed to—ayes 11, noes 54.

Several amendments were proposed, discussed, and rejected.

Mr. MILLSON, of Virginia, finally moved to strike out the Senate amendment, and all the amendments which had been adopted by the committee, and insert the following:

Sec. 6. And be is further enacted, That the Secretary of the Navy cause to be constructed as specially as may be consistent with the public interests, ten steam screw sloops of war, with full steam power, whose greatest draught of water shall not exceed fourteen feet, which ships shall combine the heaviest armament and greatest speed compatible with their character and tonoage; and one site wheel war steamer, whose greatest draught shall not exceed eight feet, armed and provided for service in the China seas; and that there be, ard is hereby, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy, for the purpose above specified, the sum of twidter hundred thorisand dollars out of any money in the treasury net otherwise appropriated.

The question being taken, the amendment was agreed to—ayes 84, noes 88.

The committee them rose, and reported the amendments to the House for its action.

Br. J. GLANCY JONES demanded the previous question; which was ordered.

exposed, but it is not our intention to seek out the minor evils which may deform our body politic, in order to parade them before the world as a true picture of metropolitan society. It would be strange indeed if in the thousands who inhabit this city there should not be a score or so of offenders against Law and Order every day, and our citizens have reason to congratulate themselves that they have elected a Mayor whose known decision of purpose will hold rowdybm in check, if he is not able entirely to cradicate this vestige of known pothburism.

This Esolish Opera.—This is the opening night of the English Opera Troupe at the Washington Theatre, the manager of which is about to spread a dainty feast of delicious music before the inetropolitan public. Miss Milner has a pleasing voice, and sings with taste and correctness: Mr. Frazer is a good tenor, and Mr. Rudolphson a basso of a very fair order of talent. The prices have not been augmented, and we are pleased to learn that there is a probability that the harmonies, vocal and instrumental, will exercise "whatever of excitement has remained over the contest of Monday."

House of Representatives does not maintain an even temperature, and the sunlight pouring down through the close glass roof makes the hall very uncomfortable on a warm day. Yesterday there was luckly a breeze, and, by keeping the outside windows and the doors of the committee rooms open, the House was kept tolerably completed; but we noticed yesterday quite a number of painters fancifully decorating the passages of the base-ment story with gaudy colors. It is so dark there that at midday most of the painters are forced to use candles
